

The Fuqua Family

The Routons of Paris and Henry County, Tennessee

by Stephanie Routon Tayloe

The Fuqua Family has been described in The Governors of Louisiana as one of the most distinguished families of the Old South. Members of this old family have gone from the State of Virginia to almost every state of the Union, leaving their mark. One is Governor Fuqua of Louisiana, and there is a famous architect in Texas by the last name of Fuqua. Many books have been written on the family. The best one is A Flight for Freedom. There is even a Fuqua Society which collects information on Fuqua descendants.
